TRULY OFFSHORE SEMINAR with Bruce Schwab
Schooner Creek Boat Works
Thursday, April 14th

The TOS is an up close & personal day with Bruce Schwab at Schooner Creek to learn some of the inside baseball details about Ocean Planet & sailing around the world in the Vendee Globe.

- The morning discussion and Q&A will encompass the realm of electronics, communications, navigation, routing and weather.
- Lunch will include a preview of Bruce's multi-media presentation at a ticketed event Friday night (venue TBA) for the sailing and adventure-loving public.
- The afternoon discussion and Q&A will focus on the realm of gadgets on OP that worked & didn't, trouble-shooting and repairs on the run (especially the autopilot and radar dome), and a discussion about what went on the boat and got left off that shouldn't have.
- Two highlights of the event will be the door prize give-away by Nobletec and the drawing of attendee names to see who sails with Bruce on Prestissimo,* Thursday night.

The goal of this event is to provide attendees with an opportunity to meet Bruce and have a unique learning experience about sailing that serves both offshore cruisers and racers. Another goal is to help raise friends and funds for the Ocean Planet campaign and Made in America Foundation.

*Prestissimo is a sloop-rigged Wiley 43 owned by Joseph Huberman. Construction of Prestissimo was completed at Schooner Creek last summer and she will soon be shipped to her permanent home in North Carolina. Mr. Huberman was kind enough to delay shipping the yacht so it would be here for Bruce's visit. Features of Prestissimo include: a free-standing carbon fiber mast, lifting keel, an electric motor for propulsion, a shower that uses recirculating water, and a self-composting head. You may have seen Prestissimo on the river being put through her paces...she's the Carolina blue boat with red graphics and a tall, white mast with no training wheels (as Bruce would say).
